Every morning I water the plants and clean the beds. I also look after the garden in our school. It gives me a sense of joy seeing the plants grow. I feel fit and active working in the garden. I am also learning a lot about different types of plants.

My uncle who stays in the United States used to write letters to us. I used to take out the stamps from the envelopes and stick them in an album.

During my free time, I read about stamps issued by postal departments of different countries.

Nowadays with the advancement of technology, communication systems have changed. People mostly communicate through email, SMS, MMS, etc., which are faster. But the old postal system is still popular.
