Ans. The poet does not want to intrude so that the boy can get a chance to learn the real truth of life. He has to learn to accept the loss. He does not offer him money to buy another ball as no ball can bring back the memories associated with that lost ball.

Ans. This line means that no one can buy anything that is lost forever. No one will buy the boy that very ball which he has lost. Money is an external thing. It is a medium of possessing things. It can't take the place of things possessed.
