missiongyan LET'S LEARN TOGETHER

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree, A
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made: B
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honeybee, A
And live alone in the bee-loud glade. B

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow A
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings; B
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow, A
And evenings full of the linnet's wings. B

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear the lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on
the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

Q.2 By now you may have concluded that Innisfree is a simple, natural place, full of beauty and peace. How does the poet contrast it with where he now stands?

(Read stanza III.)

missiongyan LET'S LEARN TOGETHER

Answer : The natural beauty of Innisfree is used and explained in contrast with the roads and pavements in city. The pavement is of grey colour which symbolises decay and death.

missiongyan LET'S LEARN TOGETHER

Answer : The natural beauty of Innisfree is not the creation of the poet's fancy. It is a real place that gives solace to the frustrated souls. The poet longs to live at such a beautiful and peaceful place. He misses it a lot.
