

POEM-7 | The Trees

QUIZ-01

1. In the poem The Trees, where do the trees start to move from?
- The forest
 - The veranda
 - Inside the house
 - The fields (C)

Explanation: The poet mentions that the trees inside the house are moving out into the forest, symbolizing their desire for freedom and connection to nature.

2. According to the poet, which of the following cannot happen in a treeless forest?
- Birds sitting on branches
 - The sun reflecting brightly
 - Insects hiding
 - Shadows casting (A)

Explanation: The poet highlights that a treeless forest is lifeless, as there are no trees for birds to perch on, showing the importance of nature.

3. What does the poet mean by the phrase "sun bury its feet in shadow"?
- The sun creates deep darkness
 - The sun hides behind clouds
 - The sun's rays are blocked by trees
 - The sun descends into the ocean (C)

Explanation: The poet uses metaphorical language to depict how the presence of trees creates shadowed areas, illustrating the vibrancy of nature.

4. How does the poet describe the branches of the trees as they struggle to move out?
- Like birds flapping their wings
 - Like a ship in a storm
 - Like newly discharged patients
 - Like trees growing rapidly (C)

Explanation: The poet compares the trees' branches to patients moving slowly after being confined, symbolizing their struggle for freedom.

5. What happens to the glass in the house as the trees move out?
- It becomes foggy
 - It breaks
 - It glows under moonlight
 - It reflects the forest (B)

Explanation: The glass breaks as the trees forcefully push through the house, emphasizing their determination to reconnect with the natural world.

6. How is the moon described at the beginning of the third stanza?
- Full and bright
 - Broken like a mirror
 - Dull and hidden
 - Shimmering like a lake (A)

Explanation: Initially, the poet describes the moon as full and bright, symbolizing a peaceful setting before it transitions to chaos with the trees' movement.

7. What does the poet mean when they say they do not mention the departure of the forest in their letters?
- It is too common to mention
 - It is a hidden secret
 - Some events are too unexpected to discuss
 - They are unaware of the forest moving (C)

Explanation: The poet hints at the human tendency to remain silent about significant but startling occurrences in life.

8. What literary device is used in the comparison of trees breaking free to "the moon broken like a mirror"?
- Personification
 - Simile
 - Alliteration
 - Metaphor (B)

Explanation: The poet uses a simile to describe the fragmentation of the moon's reflection, symbolizing the disruption caused by the trees' departure.

9. Which broader theme does the poem The Trees address?
- The strength of family bonds
 - The conflict between man and nature
 - The pursuit of wealth
 - Scientific advancements (B)

Explanation: The poem presents a symbolic conflict where trees, representative of nature, break free from human confinement to reclaim their natural place.

10. How does Adrienne Rich's use of trees as a metaphor offer a deeper meaning?
- They symbolize rebellion against oppression
 - They represent new technology
 - They showcase artistic creativity
 - They symbolize economic growth (A)

Explanation: Adrienne Rich uses trees as a metaphor for human beings struggling for freedom, making the poem resonate with themes of liberation.
