

CHAPTER-3 | The Little Girl

QUIZ-01

1. What was Kezia's first reaction when her father came home in the evening?
- She ran to greet him with excitement.
  - She stood near the staircase, listening to his loud voice.
  - She immediately started serving him tea.
  - She sat quietly in her room. (B)

Explanation: Kezia would stand near the staircase, apprehensive of her father's arrival and loud voice, showcasing her fear and discomfort.

2. What task did Kezia's mother give her to do for her father?
- Read to him from a book.
  - Take off his boots and carry them outside.
  - Help him write a speech.
  - Serve him dinner. (B)

Explanation: Kezia was asked by her mother to remove her father's boots, a task she found intimidating due to her father's stern demeanor.

3. Why did Kezia stutter only when speaking to her father?
- She was naturally shy and stuttered with everyone.
  - She feared him and was nervous around him.
  - She had a speech problem.
  - Her grandmother encouraged her to do so. (B)

Explanation: Kezia stuttered only with her father because she was anxious and afraid, trying hard to speak properly in front of him.

4. What did Kezia decide to make for her father's birthday?
- A card.
  - A bouquet of flowers.
  - A pin-cushion.
  - A hand-knitted sweater. (C)

Explanation: Kezia, guided by her grandmother, decided to make a pin-cushion as a thoughtful gift for her father's birthday.

5. What caused the uproar in the house on the night Kezia finished her gift?
- She accidentally tore up her father's important papers.
  - She broke an antique vase.
  - She forgot to sew the pin-cushion.
  - She lost the gift. (A)

Explanation: Kezia unknowingly tore her father's important speech papers to stuff the pin-cushion, leading to a severe reaction from her parents.

6. How did Kezia's father punish her for her mistake?
- By scolding her.
  - By asking her to rewrite the speech.
  - By beating her on the palms with a ruler.
  - By sending her to her room without dinner. (C)

Explanation: Kezia's father punished her harshly by striking her palms with a ruler, reinforcing her fear and misunderstanding of him.

7. What made Kezia think that fathers could be different from her own?
- Her grandmother told her stories about other fathers.
  - She saw the Macdonald children happily playing with their father.
  - Her teacher described an ideal father in school.
  - She read about loving fathers in a book. (B)

Explanation: Kezia observed the Macdonald children joyfully playing with their father, contrasting her own experiences and realizing fathers could be kind and playful.

8. What did Kezia's father do when she had a nightmare in his absence?
- He ignored her fears.
  - He scolded her for being childish.
  - He comforted her and allowed her to sleep in his bed.
  - He asked Alice to take care of her. (C)

Explanation: After hearing Kezia's distress, her father comforted her, let her sleep in his bed, and reassured her of his care.

9. How did Kezia's perception of her father change after the nightmare incident?
- She started seeing him as a gentle giant.
  - She realized he had a big heart and worked hard.
  - She stopped fearing him completely.
  - She viewed him as a superhero. (B)

Explanation: Kezia began to understand her father's strictness was due to his hard work and responsibilities, and she appreciated his "big heart."

10. What does Kezia's story highlight about parent-child relationships?
- Parents are always perfect.
  - Communication and understanding are essential for bonding.
  - Children should fear their parents.
  - Mistakes should never be forgiven. (B)

Explanation: The story emphasizes that better communication and empathy can transform strained relationships into bonds of mutual understanding and love.
